

Corporate Services

MiStaffing has extended its services, connecting early childhood education and care services with qualified educators looking for employment, to include assisting families working at home and in essential services with childcare@home.

What is childcare@home?

childcare@home connects families who are working in essential services or from home, with qualified educators to help assist with their children's learning at home. All educators working in the childcare@home program are qualified educators who hold first aid certificates, have undergone relevant state police checks, and hold either a Certificate III, Diploma or Bachelor of Early Childhood/Primary Education.

What are the benefits?

childcare@home is a program you can offer your staff to support them and their family during these difficult times.

childcare@home qualified educators help take the stress out of juggling working and learning from home, increasing employee engagement and productivity.

How does it work?

Families download the MiStaffing app and complete their individual profiles. Once approved, families are able to log shifts via the jobs page in the app. These shifts then match directly to educators who meet the criteria and are seeking work. Educators are then able to apply to a position and be approved by the family for the shift.

What's my liability?

As the agreement lies between the family and the educator there is no liability to an organisation

How do we communicate childcare@home to our staff?

Communication is easy. MiStaffing works in collaboration with you to ensure the most efficient, effective and appropriate way to communicate. We assist with providing online tutorials, FAQ and 24/7 support. MiStaffing will dedicate an account manager to assist you and your families every step of the way.

How do you manage the COVID-19 threat to educators/families?

Families and Educators are required to read and accept the COVID-19 policy. In addition, prior to any shift commencing, all participants must agree to the COVID-19 status checklist which ensures that all current best practices are being adhered to. Our Educators have also been advised to complete the COVID-19 infection control training recommended by the Dept. of Health for Frontline workers.

How much does it cost?

childcare@home is currently free to your organisation. Payments occur directly between families and educators (at a rate set by the family) using a secure payment gateway - Stripe. At the end of a shift when the hours of work are confirmed, payment is calculated and made instantly.
